

Activated caspase-3 reporter mouse

The activated caspase-3 reporter mouse is an in vivo screening assay for apoptosis (regulated, energy-dependent cell death) in all tissues. Fluorescence microscopy of the fluorophore mCerulean reveals levels of caspase-3 activation in cells, and hence progression towards apoptosis.

Duke

LICENSING & VENTURES

Duke File (IDF)

T-003933

Inventor(s)

- Nicholls, Peter
- Caron, Marc G
- Johnson, George

College

School of Medicine (SOM)

For more information please contact

Krishnan, Shweta

919-681-7541

shweta.krishnan@duke.edu